Purpose

The Working With Children Check – Blue Cards procedure sets out the way in which the department will comply with its responsibilities under the Working with Children (Risk Management & Screening) Act 2000 (Qld) in relation to employment and volunteer arrangements.

This procedure sets-out:

- the types of work that require a person to hold a Blue Card;
- the way in which the department manages Blue Cards; and
- the responsibilities of Blue Card holders and other persons.

Overview

The department applies the Public Safety Business Agency (PSBA) employment screening process to ensure that it complies with its responsibilities under the Working with Children (Risk Management & Screening) Act 2000 (Qld) in relation to employment and volunteer arrangements in the department.

Specific information on Blue Card requirements can be found at: <http://www.bluecard.qld.gov.au/index.html>.

Unless otherwise exempt under a statute or order (as outlined below), all paid employees, who present for work to undertake child-related employment or activities, require a Blue Card if their duties include, or are likely to include, providing services directed mainly towards a child or children, or conducting activities that involve contact with children for at least:

- Eight consecutive days, or
- Once a week, each week, for over four weeks, or
- Once a fortnight, each fortnight, over eight weeks, or
- Once a month, each month, over six months.

Volunteers require a Blue Card prior to commencing child-related work or activities irrespective of the frequent of the work.

The Working with Children (Risk Management & Screening) Act 2000 (Qld) provides an exemption from the Blue Card requirements for any person who is a Registered Teacher or Police Officer or Health Practitioner (who is registered a Registered Health Practitioner in accordance with the Health Practitioner Regulation National Law Act 2009) and, who works with children as part of their professional duties.

However, in certain circumstances Registered Teachers, Police Officers or Registered Health Practitioners may need to apply to Blue Card Services for an Exemption Card (refer to definitions) if they provide child-related services, either in a volunteer, paid or self-employed capacity, that are not part of their normal employment. Examples of such work may include coaching at a local sporting club or tutoring services.

Instrumental Music Teachers/Instructors are not exempt from the Blue Card Requirements of this procedure.

A fact sheet providing helpful information in relation to Blue Card Requirements for specific employee groups working in child-related employment or activities is provided at: Who Needs a Blue Card?

Additional information can also be found on the Blue Card Services website at: <http://www.bluecard.qld.gov.au/info-sheets.html>
